Self-management of the agenda

Assign the services to each specialist and give them the opportunity to manage their own agenda in advance without being able to charge the client directly.

Make an online reservation

Allow your customers to make online reservations from their smartphone for all of your services. Immediately, you will receive a notification showing the online reservations.

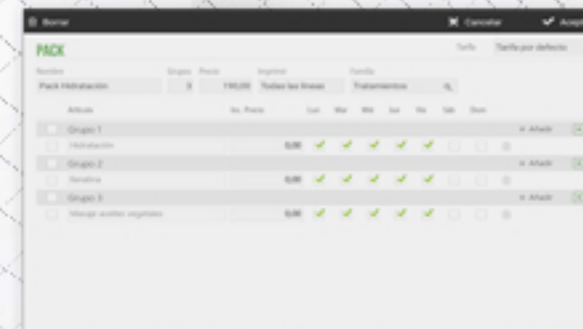

Stock control

Organize, plan and keep control of your stock with our management tool. It allows you to keep track of your purchases from your providers and control your inventory.

Create and personalize your packs

Create and personalize the packs that you offer, by doing so, avoid checking the services and the length every appointment.

Suggested sales

Increase the average bill by creating the suggested sales. HIOPOS suggests to the employees what they have to offer to the costumers after the service.

Check your customer's history

You will have access to your customer's order history, you will be capable to know which items they usually buy and who was the last employee to assist the customer.
